SAFE HAVENS – FREEDOM TALKS

Safe Havens - Freedom Talk #20

Artist Talk: Ani Plants Growing, Artistic Presentation by Sculptor Ani Svami

Following three days of inspiring conversations and practical meetings in December with many participants from all over the world in the Safe Havens Conference 2022 in Mexico City, Safe Havens Freedom Talks (SH|FT) presents an artist talk by Ani Svami, a Ukrainian multidisciplinary artist and public space sculptor, which was a part of the conference programme. This talk will be streamed on Wednesday, 15 March at 4.00 pm CET on

This presentation shows a way of conceptual development and essential meaning in the artist's practice. Coming through a story of more than ten public sculptures, Ani shows her latest project, erected in Prague after her evacuation from Prague as a result of the war. This event was made possible with the support of the Artists at Risk Connection (ARC).

Ani Svami (she) is a multidisciplinary artist, sculptor from Ukraine, Kyiv. The small- and large-scale objects she creates are all based on nature plastics and philosophy of Plants. Ani is an established artist known for her work, participating in numerous exhibitions and projects over the world through the last 17 years. After a horrible war came to her country, she moved to Prague and managed to do massive public sculpture there with support of the Czech Centre by personal initiative as her own prayer for children protection and faster victory.
